How a university with real connections to industry can make a real difference to your ambitions

When you are looking at university choices after school or college you are left with lots of possibilities. Trying to compare one university course with another is really difficult - you could have anything between five and fifty possible destinations when you are searching for your subject on ucas.com. And then how do you compare differences in universities - the size of the campus, its location, facilities, social life etc.? What makes one university better for you than another?

Graduates are competing for jobs at all levels so it can take time and effort to get your foot on the career ladder, so an important issue when you are selecting a university is employability. The reality is that for most subjects an undergraduate degree is only the first step into a well-paid career. You may have to show how your course has prepared you for the job you want to do, and how you made the most of any work experience you undertook during your study.

If you really want to know how well a university prepares its graduates for their future careers, the most relevant indicator of success are its graduate destinations. When you're looking at potential universities, many will point to how many graduates get jobs, but remember to look at what jobs they get from which employers. If students are being snapped up by big companies, the chances are that the university could be doing something right.

Bucks New University has graduates working for Google, BMW, Sony, Cath Kidston, John Lewis and Puma among others. Psychology and Criminology graduates work for Thames Valley Police (HQ) and the National Probation Service. These organisations are among the most widely recognised and respected in their sectors.

Billy Coulson

Studied: BA (Hons) Advertising Management and Digital Communications

Role: Partnership Manager, Williams F1

One of the ways that Bucks can help you land a job with employers like these is by connecting you with industry while you study. Every institution claims to do this, but if you speak to students or ask questions at open days you'll find out just how connected they really are.

Billy Coulson earned a BA (Hons) in Advertising Management and Digital Communications from Bucks and now works for the Williams F1 team. He knows that making the right connections while he was studying was a huge help. "My time at Bucks offered great networking opportunities and frequent guest speakers from the industry," he says. "There's no doubt that my course was a solid business grounding."

Rachel Pritchard

Studied: BA (Hons) Public Relations and Marketing Communications

Role: PR Account Executive at Lewis PR

The benefits of experience apply to the teaching staff, too. Find out whether the university you're interested in have tutors who are also experts in their industry. There's nothing better that learning from an academic who is still active in the field, so you know that what your learning is used in business now and will be relevant to that company when you graduate.

Rachel Pritchard gained a BA (Hons) in Public Relations and Marketing Communications from Bucks and now works for a top PR Agency. She says that having the right lecturers really helped set her on the path to a great career. "They often still work in the industry themselves so they bring you on board with some of their own clients. I got involved in market research, ran an event for 250 people and started my own business - all with the support of my lecturers."

MYSTERY OVER PRECINCT PLANS

DISCUSSIONS over a second phase of redevelopment of the Bury Street Shopping Centre are underway, but developers are remaining tight-lipped as to what the plans actually are.

Retail agency Jackson Criss, working on behalf of shopping centre operators Aberdeen Asset Management, has said they are in talks with a number of retailers to look at developing the centre further.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

But Andrew Criss, founding partner of Jackson Criss, declined to give any details as to what the plans could include.

He said: "We are not allowed to comment yet as we are reviewing a number of options for the northern section of the centre.

"It is very early days."

Further development had previously been planned for The Charter, including the building of a supermarket and demolition of the multi-storey car park, but it is unclear whether this is still being considered.

In 2011 plans for a £53million development were announced, but the first phase - a revamp of the Bury Street precinct - cost about £5m.

The changing face of Didcot

With Didcot growing at a rate of knots, Jack Johnson looks into the impact of the town's expansion on neighbouring villages...

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

DIDCOT is increasing in size like no other town in South Oxfordshire and shows no sign of stopping.

But what effect will this have on villages just a stone's throw away?

Parishioners are certainly not against the development of Didcot and make the most of the town's train station, cinema and arts centre.

However, the villages share a common concern – losing their identity to an expanding town.

"We're worried about the village eventually turning into a quaint suburb of Didcot," said Harwell Parish Council chairman David Marsh.

Chairman of West Hagbourne Parish Council Michael Butler added: "We are very concerned about the possibility of being assimilated into the south of Didcot."

"It is important to say we're not anti-Didcot, it is not like everything will be doom and gloom," continued Tom Bowtell, chairman of Long Wittenham Parish Council, "but the risk is we end up being engulfed."

According to South Oxfordshire District Council, the town will be home to 30,000 residents as of next year, and it is no surprise with building work at the 3,300 home Great Western Park estate well underway.

Meanwhile, plans for 4,450 homes at neighbouring Valley Park were submitted last month – 2,000 more than originally planned.

Developers also want to build a 2,030 home estate north of Ladygrove, and several smaller clumps of housing have been approved around the town.

Valley Park, although seen as an extension of Didcot, is actually within the boundaries of Harwell and Cllr Marsh is fighting to constrain the town's growth.

"Change is inevitable and it is how to manage it, that is the challenge," he said, "there is some opportunity to put some constraints on it."

The A34 slices through Harwell but acts almost as a buffer, protecting the village from over-development from the east.

Cllr Marsh added: "We're lucky to have the A34 there. We talk to other villages and they don't have such a big metal divide.

"People have already said they will be putting their house on the market but we have no idea if that is a reaction or a reality."

To the south of Didcot is the village of West Hagbourne, which currently has a green buffer between itself and the town.

When it is fully developed, Great Western Park will stretch down towards the village, while 154 homes are currently being built on Park Road, just to the north of West Hagbourne.

However, with a second phase of the Orchard Centre in the pipeline and new sports facilities at Great Western Park, Cllr Butler accepted that not all of Didcot's growth was bad news for the village.

"It is a much better place to shop, there are more facilities and there will be new sports centres, all of which will come to be of use to the village," he said.

"Generally, the growth of Didcot is not completely a bad thing."

Another large estate of just over 2,000 homes will lie to the north of the town and could bring with it a new leisure centre.

Currently, that development lies within the parish of Long Wittenham – a village situated four miles from the centre of Didcot.

Traffic is a big concern for parishioners with motorists using it as a rat run to the Thames crossing at Clifton Hampden and towards Oxford.

Cllr Bowtell said with all the new housing in Didcot a third river crossing near Culham is imperative.

"The traffic through the village is the big talking point," he added.

"There really isn't anything else we can do and the only practical solution is to have another bridge."

• A map of housing developments planned for Didcot

History of Didcot

43 – 800 – Didcot is just farm, wood and marshland. The first Iron Age settlements begin to emerge

1140 – The village of Didcot is destroyed during the civil war between Queen Matilda and King Steven

1155 – 1671 – The manor of Didcot is owned by several minor barons and families, including the Stonor's. Didcot was held by the State from 1630 before the Stonor's reclaimed it in 1660 upon the restoration of the monarchy

1720 – 1839 – A working class population emerges after the Stonor's sell off land and the seven landowners divide up Didcot. The Great Western Railway is laid

1844 – Didcot becomes a branch junction to Oxford and Isambard Kingdom Brunel's covered station is erected, leading to a demand in housing from railwaymen and their families

1868 – 1910 – Development begins with eight streets of housing making up the Northbourne estate

1914 – 1918 – The First World War brings an arrival of soldiers to the area, creating a housing crisis in what was a quiet rural Didcot

1920 – 1939 – Large estates are built while the Broadway transforms from a quiet residential road into a shopping centre. Schools and churches are also built

1945 – 1960 - Didcot faces another housing crisis after the Atomic Energy Research Establishment is opened in Harwell. More homes are built and larger estates are formed

1960 – 2000 – Didcot Power Station is built and begins operation in 1970. This leads to further growth and emergence of the Ladygrove estate in the 1990s

2000 – The town is earmarked for further development and is named as the centre of the Science Vale

2002 – Planning application for 3,300 home estate Great Western Park is submitted

2008 – South Oxfordshire District Council grants outline planning permission

2011 – Great Western Park building work starts

2013 –Plans to build a 2,030 home estate north of Ladygrove are put on show

2015 – Planning application for 4,450 homes at Valley Park, next to Great Western Park submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council

Tumour hero chuffed with train driving wish

A YOUNG brain tumour survivor's wish to become a train driver for a day will be granted this weekend thanks to Didcot Railway Centre and children's charity Starlight.

Daniel Bainbridge, 10, from Parsons Mead in Abingdon, is visiting the railway centre on Sunday to ride a steam engine, speak to a train driver and explore the engine sheds.

He was diagnosed with an Optic Pathway Glioma – a type of slow-growing brain tumour – in 2012, and has been undergoing intense chemotherapy as a result.

And because Daniel wants to become a train driver when he grows up, his mum Julia wrote to Starlight to ask if they could grant his wish.

"Daniel can't wait for Sunday, he's really looking forward to it," said Julia.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"He's really interested in trains, it's something he'd like to do when he grows up, and with Didcot being local he does spend quite a lot of time there."

Daniel finished 18 months of chemotherapy at the end of last year, and is due to have an MRI scan later this month to check if everything is still stable.

Due to the position of the tumour on Daniel's optic nerve, it cannot be removed and could start growing again at any time, which would lead to more chemotherapy.

"It's been horrendous at times," Julia added.

"The first 10 weeks of treatment were really intensive. Daniel's a very active, very sociable child and he became very ill, very quiet, and lost an awful lot of weight.

"In October 2013 he got a life-threatening infection but managed to get through, and then the treatment became less intense and he picked up a bit more from then.

"His friends have been really supportive, and Starlight have been really good."

Daniel will be accompanied on his trip to Didcot Railway Centre by his dad Robert, Mayor of Didcot Scott Wilgrove and Starlight CEO Neil Swan.

Mr Swan said: "We are delighted to be granting Daniel's wish this weekend and to be creating precious memories for his family to cherish.

"The positive focus that a Starlight wish brings really does have a beneficial effect and helps to restore the fun and magic of childhood."

Developers secretive over town redevelopment plans

• From front page

Mr Criss added: "Abingdon has been a real success story due to its strong sales densities from the likes of New Look, having recently upsized.

"Due to the success of phase one and lack of further big box opportunities, we are now looking at the next phase of the redevelopment to satisfy the demand, which will only go on to strengthen the vitality of the area."

However Mr Criss did not respond when asked when plans would be made public.

The first phase of Bury Street's refurbishment was completed in December 2012.

But in the past year only two new stores have opened in the precinct: phone operator Vodafone and Parsons the Baker.

A number of units, including the large store next to New Look, remain empty.

Abingdon Town Council leader Sandy Lovatt said: "Abingdon is desperate. Nothing's happened since they finished the precinct work.

"What the town's been trying to do is increase footfall, to make it look attractive to any potential trade owner who want to get people in Abingdon to spend money with them.

"All I can do is increase footfall by making the town more active, I don't have a box of retailers I can sprinkle around."

He added: "They have only spent about £5m of the £53m they promised to spend."

News Bites

Fish protection

ABINGDON: Environment Agency staff returned to Abingdon Marina last week to repair shelters that deter cormorants from eating fish stocks.

In 2013 refuges were built in the marina to shelter the fish from hungry birds, but high water levels since had damaged some of them.

Last Thursday staff repaired and re-anchored the refuges, this time using more bricks.

Environment Agency officer Stuart Manwaring said: "Providing fish somewhere to hide means the local angling club's stocks will remain healthy."

Parking fees

ABINGDON: Oxfordshire County Council is proposing to raise the cost of parking permits for residents in the town centre by 20 per cent.

A consultation - at consultations.oxfordshire.gov.uk - is underway to raise the cost from £100 to £120.

Rural hustings

ABINGDON: A hustings event for Oxford West and Abingdon's general election candidates to debate rural issues is being held at Peachcroft Farm on February 27.

Residents will be able to quiz the candidates on rural matters during the evening.

Conservative MP Nicola Blackwood is invited, and Liberal Democrat Layla Moran, Labour's Sally Copley, Ukip's Alan Harris and Green's Larry Sanders have confirmed.

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Florey feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Campaigners call for infrastructure as Science Vale masterplan is revealed

'Wantage needs more'

CAMPAIGNERS in Wantage are calling for more infrastructure improvements in and around the town amid the publication of a masterplan for Science Vale.

An 'Area Action Plan' has been produced by Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire district councils, outlining major developments and innovation.

Science Vale includes Wantage, Grove, Didcot, Culham, Sutton Courtenay, Harwell, and Chilton.

It combines research and development facilities at Harwell Oxford, Culham Science Centre and Milton Park.

Three major housing developments at Grove Airfield, Monk's Farm and Crab Hill will see 4,750 new homes surround Wantage and Grove by 2031.

The Vale's local plan also highlights Wantage as an area of growth and is seeking the reopening of Grove station.

Science Vale plans also include a Wantage eastern link road, upgrades to the A417 and A338 as well as three new primary schools and one secondary.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And residents group Wantage and Grove Campaign Group (WaGCG) say more infrastructure is needed to meet the housing numbers.

WaGCG leader Julie Mabberley said: "If we are providing at least five per cent of the housing required across Oxfordshire, why don't we see at least five per cent of the investment being made in Wantage and Grove?

"Five per cent of the £815m investment in transport infrastructure will be about £42m - that would fund our western relief road and the improvements to the A417."

She added: "Five per cent of the £500 million investment in rail improvements would fund the reopening of Grove Station.

"How long do we have to put up with the lack of funding in Wantage and Grove?"

Consultation for the Science Vale Area Action Plan begins on February 27 for seven weeks.

The plan also includes the transformation of Didcot in to what planners have termed a "modern hub", and a third Thames crossing near Culham.

Housing is a big part of the plans with Didcot expecting to become a science town with 6,300 new homes built by 2026, according to SODC's 2011 Core Strategy.

The strategy also says between 7,000 and 10,500 new jobs will be created in Science Vale by 2026.

More than £100m of government money has also been secured for infrastructure, including A34 improvements, a new Science Bridge over the A4130 and a Harwell link road.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print, the Vale's scrutiny committee were discussing the plan ahead of the consultation.

00-Blenheim: Bond shoots at the palace

RUMOURS are rife that Blenheim Palace could feature in the new James Bond film, 'Spectre'.

Cranes and camera crews surrounded the country house in Woodstock on Monday.

It is home to the 12th Duke of Marlborough and is the birthplace of Winston Churchill.

Actor Daniel Craig will play the iconic spy for the fourth time in the film - released on October 23.

Blenheim Palace declined to comment.

Residents took to social media site Twitter, posting pictures and spouting rumours of 007's arrival.

Ben Freeman tweeted: "Can't believe 007 have been filming at Blenheim Palace in Oxfordshire."

Samantha McGregor posted: "Where is James?"

The palace was used to film 'Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix' and 'Gulliver's Travels'.

Blenheim music

WOODSTOCK: Singer-songwriter Van Morrison and jazz vocalist Gregory Porter have been announced for the first night of Nocturneat Blenheim Palace on June 25.

The event will be the first live music performance at Blenheim for 10 years, and is part of a £2.5million investment to bring live music back to the venue.

Tickets go on sale tomorrow at nocturnelive.com.

Roadworks start

OXON: Major roadworks are to begin on Milton Interchange near Didcot on Monday.

Temporary speed limits will be in force in both directions of the A34 while work is carried out on the interchange, which is expected to be completed by spring next year.

Work is also due to start at Frideswide Square in Oxford from Monday, with engineers beginning the process of removing traffic islands.

Pancake race

WALLINGFORD: One of the oldest pancake races in the county will take place in Wallingford on Tuesday.

From 10am, children and adults will race around Market Place with frying pan and pancake in hand, dressed as their favourite Disney character.

Hotel Watch

CHERWELL: The first meeting of police and hoteliers in Cherwell to tackle child sex exploitation is to take place next week.

Hotel Watch will see them hold regular meetings to share information and concerns.

Around 15 hoteliers in Cherwell have signed up to the scheme, set up in the wake of Operation Bullfinch – an investigation into child exploitation in Oxford.

PC Ian Allen said: "The hoteliers used to share concerns amongst a small group, but now they will be able to share any issues with a larger group and feed it into the police.

"If they have a problem with someone not paying, someone damaging a room, or with child sexual exploitation, that information will now be shared much more widely."

Jobs on the way

WITNEY: New jobs are set to be created at Stewart Milne Timber Systems, based in Curbridge Business Park, it was announced on Monday.

More than 250 posts are being created nationally by the company with some of those destined for Witney, although it is currently unknown how many will be in the town.

Stewart Milne Group chief executive Glenn Allison, said: "The message from us is that if you are talented then we would like to hear from you."

Spring start date set for Westgate development

BUILDING work on a £440million development of Westgate Shopping Centre in Oxford is set to begin this spring.

The Westgate Oxford Alliance, a joint venture between Land Securities and The Crown Estate, made the announcement on Monday, with preparatory work beginning immediately on the project.

Four extra retailers to move into the Westgate were also announced – clothes shops H&M and Superdry, shoe shop Schuh, and jewellers Goldsmiths.

In total about 70 new shops are to be incorporated in the centre, including a flagship John Lewis store and five-screen cinema.

An underground car park will also be built, with the existing multi-storey being demolished following its closure at the start of the year.

It is hoped that construction will be completed by autumn 2017, and will lead to the creation of 3,400 retail jobs.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "This is an important day for the city of Oxford.

"As a key regeneration project for the city, Westgate Oxford will not only create many new jobs, it will also support the whole region including existing businesses by increasing footfall in the city.

"I am delighted to hear that construction will begin imminently."

Other shops confirmed for the Westgate include Next, Primark, and fashion outlet Michael Kors.

Robert Noel, chief executive for Land Securities, said: "We've taken a significant step towards creating our vision for a world-class retail and leisure destination in Oxford.

"Alongside our growing list of customers, we are committed to creating a new Westgate Oxford which not only complements the city's beauty and heritage status, but also enhances its global reputation as a great place to spend time."

Paul Clark, director of investment at The Crown Estate, added: "This significant milestone underscores our commitment to this ambitious redevelopment.

"It will totally transform the retail and leisure experience in Oxford and stand out as one of the best schemes of its kind in the UK."

Man dies after fire in Faringdon toilets

A 49-YEAR-OLD man who died after a fire at a public toilets in Faringdon on Monday was named yesterday as Jonathan Mills of Risinghurst, Oxford.

At around 1.55pm, fire crews were called to the toilets in Southampton Street, close to the Budgens store, where the man was pronounced dead at the scene.

A post mortem on Tuesday proved inconclusive - with further tests to be undertaken.

The death is being treated as unexplained, and the man's next of kin have been informed.

Police are looking for witnesses who saw a man that was wearing a light green and grey jacket and dark trousers who was in the area between 10am and 2pm.

Senior investigating officer Det Chief Insp Kevin Brown said: "It has been reported that members of the public saw the fire and tried to help the man out of the toilet block.

"I would like to speak to these people because they might have vital information that can aid our investigation."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

Teen punched

WITNEY: A 23-year-old man has been arrested after a teenager was knocked unconscious in Market Square on Sunday.

At around 12.45am an offender punched the 19-year-old victim in the head, knocking him to the ground outside Barclays Bank.

He suffered a fractured cheek bone and was taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, but has since been discharged.

The man arrested has been bailed until April 14.

Recycle pledge

CHERWELL: Residents can recycle an extra item this week in exchange for a free food caddy from Cherwell District Council.

They can go online and pledge to recycle one more thing up until Sunday, such as drinks bottles, milk cartons or shampoo containers.

To make the pledge, go to tiny.cc/valentinerecycle.

Festival is back

OXFORD: The Oxford Human Rights Festival returns next Wednesday for four days of films, talks and workshops.

It is at Oxford Brookes University's John Henry Brookes and Abercrombie buildings. Go to oxfordhumanrightsfestival.org for details.

£5.1m boost for fast broadband coverage

AN EXTRA 6,500 homes and businesses across Oxfordshire are set to receive superfast broadband after an additional £5.1million of funding was announced on Monday.

Money is being given to the Better Broadband for Oxfordshire partnership, which has so far worked to give more than 30,000 premises access to faster broadband.

• Didcot and Wantage MP Ed Vaizey

Four of the county's councils, BT and central government are providing the funding to bring the level of properties with access to high-speed fibre broadband to 95 per cent.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Planning and surveying will begin in the autumn, with the installation beginning before the end of the year.

Digital economy minister and MP for Didcot and Wantage Ed Vaizey said: "This announcement marks the next step in the transformation of the digital landscape of Oxfordshire.

"We want as many people as possible to enjoy the benefits of superfast broadband, and this new £5.1million investment will help us reach thousands more local homes and businesses.

"By 2017, 95 per cent of the UK will be able to access superfast speeds and I congratulate Better Broadband for Oxfordshire for the remarkable progress they have made already in helping us deliver this."

A total of £1m is being contributed by South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC), £500,000 from Cherwell District Council, £250,000 from Vale of White Horse District Council (VWHDC) and £200,000 from Oxfordshire County Council.

BT is providing £1.2m, while the remaining £1.95m is coming from the government's Department for Culture, Media and Sport.

John Cotton, leader of SODC, said: "Our extra £1m investment extends the reach of superfast broadband in South Oxfordshire in the small pockets that currently experience slower coverage.

"This will make a big difference for many people across the district."

Matthew Barber, leader of VWHDC, added: "This additional investment ensures that we address the areas of the Vale community which still don't receive the broadband speeds they need."

Once completed, download speeds of up to 80 megabits per second will be available, as well as upload speeds of 20 megabits per second.

To check the progress of superfast broadband in Oxfordshire by postcode, go to betterbroadbandoxfordshire.org.uk.

Councillors to vote on the future of chief executive job

COUNTY councillors will vote on the future of the authority's chief executive next Tuesday, February 17.

Joanna Simons could be made redundant from her position, saving the county council £250,000.

All 63 councillors will vote on the decision, as well as the council's 2015/16 budget proposals at County Hall in New Road.

Ms Simons is responsible for the council's gross expenditure of £873million and accountable for the services it delivers, such as schools.

Leader Ian Hudspeth said change is necessary in order to save money.

He continued: "Our government grant is likely to disappear by 2020, with three-quarters of our budget going on care for two per cent of the most vulnerable members of the population.

"Cutting the post of chief executive would save at least £250,000 annually and would reduce the impact of government cuts on these frontline services.

"If councillors approve this proposal, there would be a new management structure based on the existing senior managers."

Exposure

KIDLINGTON: A man exposed himself to a 12-year-old girl and a 45-year-old woman last month.

The incident with the girl was at 5pm on January 29 as she walked along Banbury Road, while the second was at 9pm the next day in Oxford Road.

He was described as white, between 30 and 50-years-old, slim and of average height.

Shop burglaries

WEST OXON: Police are appealing for witnesses after a series of burglaries at village stores on Friday and Saturday.

Shops in Chadlington, Kingham, Wootton and Glympton were targeted, as well as a shop in Bodicote, near Banbury.

Cigarettes, cash, alcohol and scratch cards were stolen from the stores in Chadlington, Bodicote and Wootton.

Thieves tried to get into shops in Kingham and Glympton, but left empty handed.

Lent campaign

OXON: A new campaign has been launched by the Diocese of Oxford to encourage people to make a difference during Lent. Washday15 is urging residents to do a washing-related activity, such as cleaning a car, to help their community.

Images reveal extent of council HQ fire damage

VIDEO footage has shown the scale of devastation at South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse District Councils' offices in Crowmarsh Gifford following an arson attack last month.

The building was left in ruins after a blaze sparked in the early hours of January 15.

About 80 per cent of the offices in Benson Lane were destroyed.

The video shows debris strewn across the interior of the building, collapsed ceilings and smashed windows throughout the site.

While its future is still being decided, staff are currently working at Abbey House in Abingdon, Cornerstone in Didcot and The Beacon in Wantage.

John Cotton, leader of South Oxfordshire District Council, said: "The fact that we were up and running so soon is a result of good business continuity planning mixed with some ingenuity and improvisation.

"As much as anything else though, it's down to some serious hard work from our staff who have pulled together and risen to the challenge brilliantly.

"There's a long way to go yet, but I'm very happy that the majority of our residents will barely have noticed a blip in the services we're providing."

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Matthew Barber, leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, added: "We're really grateful to everybody for their offers of support and practical help, as well as to people for being patient with some of our services being delayed.

"Thankfully we've managed to keep any disruption to a minimum.

He continued: "The most important thing is that nobody with an urgent problem has been made to wait a minute longer than they should."

As well as the council offices, neighbouring Chadwick Howard funeral directors and a thatched house in Quakers Corner, Roke Marsh, were also attacked on the same night.

Andrew Main, 47, of Roke Marsh, appeared at Oxford Crown Court on January 30 charged with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life and two of arson reckless as to whether life was endangered.

The hearing was adjourned until April 10, with a trial, if needed, expected to last for about a week.

'Unitary authority would benefit city'

THERE is widespread agreement that England is over-centralised and it would be a good thing to devolve more power to local areas. The question is how this can be done.

The government's 'localism' agenda began with a fanfare of democratic trumpets, proclaiming local communities would get a real say in decisions that affect them. The reality is much less good.

The new planning regime has made things easier for developers and frackers, and allowed the foisting of huge developments on small towns and rural communities, while cities like Oxford, where housing need is desperate, are prevented from providing genuinely affordable housing.

We need a new deal.

I am strongly in favour of unitary authorities with powers to make policy based on what is best in local circumstances.

In my own area we have not only divided local government, preventing the efficiency savings that could be made by all local services together; we also have half of those services run by a council that does not represent Oxford at all.

None of the 34 councillors of the ruling group on Oxfordshire County Council represent any area in the city of Oxford. We can see the consequences from the poor performance of Oxford city schools to lopsided rules on road repairs.

I have campaigned for many years for a unitary authority and I will continue to do so.

A big plus is it would make sure people know who is responsible for their services to hold them to account. That has to be good for democracy, and the quality of decisions.

They will be available to families with a household income of less than £60,000 who have an connection to the area.

200 protest against Le Pen's Union talk

CROWDS of protestors gathered in Oxford on Thursday night to speak out against controversial French politician Marine Le Pen's invitation to speak at the Oxford Union.

Around 200 people took part in the protest outside the Union in Frewin Court, where Mme Le Pen was speaking and debating with students.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

She is the president of the far-right Front National party, and came third in the 2012 French presidential election.

Her views on Islam have proved controversial, and was one of the topics she spoke about at the Oxford Union debate.

Oxford Union came under pressure to cancel the invite.

More than 300 people, including residents, councillors and university professors, signed an open letter launched by campaign group Oxford Unite Against Fascism (UAF) ahead of the debate.

Ian Mckendrick, spokesman for Oxford UAF, said: "A significant proportion of our 3,000 members are migrant workers, and many are Muslims.

"They do vital work caring for the sick and providing essential support services, yet they are scapegoated and demonised.

"Not only is Marine Le Pen one of the worst culprits in Europe for stoking up racism against migrants and Muslims, but she is also leader of a fascist party that is opposed to all democratic freedom.

"By demonstrating against Le Pen we can show fascism can be exposed and countered."

A statement by Oxford Union read: "An invitation from the Union is not an endorsement of any particular agenda.

"The Union believes in the principle of freedom of speech and we would encourage all members who disagree with an invited speaker's view to attend the event and question the speaker.

"We invite no speakers who do not accept the right of our members to question them."

No arrests were made by police and nobody was injured.

Supt Rory Freeman said: "Officers attended in order to maintain public safety and prevent disorder.

"No offences were committed, and I would like to thank local residents for their patience and co-operation."

Young politicians launch plan

THREE budding politicians representing Oxfordshire at Youth Parliament launched their 2015/16 manifesto at County Hall in Oxford last week.

Aaron Miles, 17, Rowan Ibbotson, 13, and Tara Paxton-Doggett, 13, announced the key issues they want to bring up after hearing the views of 4,500 youngsters through a countywide vote.

They brought up issues including the safety of children, improving education for those in care, and making sure young people are aware of activities they can participate in.

Tara, the member for south Oxfordshire, said: "This past year has been fantastic.

"The campaigns, so far, are looking great and I can't wait for them to get put into action."

Cowley brothers make it to Lego world finals

MOST children just play with their Lego blocks.

But two brothers from Cowley have taken it a step further and made a competition-winning robot.

Leiden Quelch, 13, and Leon, 16, are among nine budding engineers who make up C14 Robotics and their brainpower has booked them a trip to America on April 22.

The group were crowned UK & Ireland First Lego League robotics champions in Loughborough on February 1 and they now have to raise £10,000 to compete at the world festival in St Louis, Missouri.

Education secretary Nicky Morgan presented the team with the trophy after they wowed judges with their robot, named Jarvis.

Leon said: "It's amazing. Last year we were watching teams who were like heroes to us.

"We've worked really hard to get better this year, but it still seems totally unreal to be someone else's heroes.

"We're all really excited to be going to the World Festival in the America.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"There are lots of other teams who worked hard, but didn't make it this far and we will be there for them, too."

They were also tasked with coming up with an idea for learning new skills and they developed a computer game to help geography students learn about natural disasters.

Their idea came from countless hours of confusion while sat in class.

Leiden said: "When we started studying geography we found the resources weren't very interesting.

"We wanted to design something that would help students learn about natural disasters in a fun and educational way."

C14 Robotics is made up of home-educated teenagers from Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Hampshire who met at a chemistry group in 2013.

Leiden added: "The hardest part has been working together when we all live so far apart.

"My mum's laptop is too old and slow to run the game, so every week I have to copy game files from the PC onto a memory stick and take them to a team member in another county."

Didcot Railway Centre day

JANUARY was a very quiet month for me with only one official engagement.

That was the Mayor's day at the Didcot Railway Centre organised to help raise local awareness of the centre as a place to visit.

The railway centre receives visitors from far and wide but many people I speak to carrying out my official functions say they have never been.

The day was entirely funded by the railway centre and manned by volunteers.

I would like to thank the Black Cupboard Gang for preparing 3650, running the event and giving up their free time; to GWR 3650's owner Brian Thompson for allowing us to use her, the guides for the carriage and workshop tours, Frank for the photos, and of course Didcot Railway Centre for providing the beautiful carriage, Coal & Water and lunch.

On April 26 the centre will be holding an OX11 day where anyone who has an OX11 postcode can visit for free.

It is an ideal opportunity to see what the centre has to offer. I will be there selling raffle tickets to win the beautiful glass plate that has been donated by No Two Things.

The plate has been created by local artist, Charlie Davies, and shows the power station before the demolition of the cooling towers last year.

I hope some of you will be able to make it as it should be a fantastic day.

What we do is simple - we buy order cancellations, end of lines and returns from some of the most famous high street stores and sell them up to 60% off the catalogue price. Our 26,000 sq ft warehouse is full of sofas, armchairs and loveseats made for two plus a great selection of furniture - all at unbelievable prices and now there's even greater savings to be made this weekend - definitely worth a look.

Why don't you buy with everyone you know - bring special friends, family, whatever it takes - if you can get the size of your purchase up, the price will come down.

PLEASE NOTE: We have devoted an entire mezzanine floor to a new range of discounted bedroom and dining furniture that is display only (orders in within a week) but it is a sneak peek at some of the stock we hope to carry on our new transactional website - this stock (and any current online clearance item) is not included in the special discount deal this weekend.

Motion to reduce height of uni flats rejected

•The Castle Mill student flats as seen from Port Meadow

PROPOSALS to lower the height of controversial student flats overlooking Port Meadow have been rejected following a vote of Oxford University's 'parliament' on Tuesday.

The university's Congregation voted 536 against and 210 for a motion that would have obligated the university to remove one floor from its Castle Mill accommodation.

Campaigners had been calling for the flats to be lowered because of the "severe adverse harm" they say had been done to the landscape of Oxford from Port Meadow.

They have been protesting for two years against the buildings, and the fight may not be over yet if campaigners decide to force a postal vote of the Congregation's 4,500 members.

Nicky Moeran, of the Save Port Meadow Campaign, said:

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Oxford University has signalled it prefers to put its financial interest before its responsibility to Oxford's heritage.

"However we were pleased to hear that the university registrar expressed regret for their failures in process, and no-one defended the buildings as they stand.

"In spite of the vote, the tone of the debate shows the university is pretty ashamed of itself and rightly so.

"Oxford's spell has been broken by these buildings and the cavalier process that led to them being built – the people of Oxford expect action that puts that right."

Representatives of Oxford University had said that lowering the buildings would cost them around £30million - £6m more than it originally cost to build them.

The flats hold approximately 300 students.

But the buildings would all have to have been completely closed had the motion been approved.

A statement released by the university said: "Congregation members debated the resolution at length, rejecting it by 536 votes to 210.

"The decisions of a Congregation vote may be challenged in a postal ballot of all its members.

"It is open to supporters of the original resolution to seek such a ballot.

"The university council will consider next steps on Castle Mill in due course and in the light of any postal vote."

£20m Jericho boatyard plans get the go ahead

MULTI-MILLION pound plans to redevelop Jericho boatyard that will see new community facilities and housing built on the site were given the green light on Tuesday evening.

Oxford City Council's West Area Planning Committee voted the £20million project through by seven votes to one.

Site developers Strategic Iconic Assets Heritage Acquisition Fund (SIAHAF) want to build a new community centre, restaurant, public square, bridge, boatyard and 23 houses on the land.

The site, off St Barnabas Street, has been derelict for the past 10 years, and has seen previous applications to develop it turned down.

Nick Band, spokesman for SIAHAF, said: "We're absolutely delighted. It's been a long haul and worth the wait.

"The whole development's going to bring a new focus to Jericho because what we want to do is reconnect that part of Oxford with the canal."

He added that construction could begin on the site in the next four months, with an estimated finishing date of 2017.

Next mayor

OXFORD: Rae Humberstone and Colin Cook have been selected to be the next lord mayor and deputy lord mayor of Oxford for the coming year.

The selection was made by fellow city councillors at their meeting on February 2, and they will take over from Mohammed Abbasi and Craig Simmons on May 18.

Cllr Humberstone said: "I feel very humbled and honoured to have been elected."

Barton tidy-up

OXFORD: Barton residents are being invited to take part in a neighbourhood walkabout tomorrow to find hotspots for clean-up and improvement.

The Barton Community Partnership is looking for areas affected by fly tipping, dog fouling and anti-social behaviour so action can be taken.

Call 07775 761697 for more information to get involved.

New centre

OXFORD: A learning centre has launched in Blackbird Leys by Oxford University to support to around 900 young people a year.

At the old Jubilee Community Centre in Sorrel Road, it will help children get a university place or go down a different educational pathway.

Competition

WIN tickets to see The Audience in London's West End

WIN tickets to see Kristin Scott Thomas in a new version of Peter Morgan's smash-hit play, directed by Stephen Daldry. The critically acclaimed production returns to the West End for a limited season from 21 April 2015.

For sixty years Elizabeth II has met each of her twelve Prime Ministers in a weekly audience at Buckingham Palace – a meeting like no other in British public life – it is private. Both parties have an unspoken agreement never to repeat what is said. Not even to their spouses.

The Audience breaks this contract of silence – and imagines a series of pivotal meetings between the Downing Street incumbents and their Queen. From Churchill to Cameron, each Prime Minister has used these private conversations as a sounding board and a confessional – sometimes intimate, sometimes explosive.

Closing date:
Friday, April 10, 2015

We have two pairs of tickets for this amazing production and if you want to be in with a chance of winning a pair all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q: At which London theatre will The Audience be performed?

For more information and to buy tickets to the show please visit: www.TheAudiencePlay.com

Terms And Conditions.

Each prize consists of two tickets (usual value £62.50 per ticket) to THE AUDIENCE at the Apollo Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, London. Tickets are valid for Monday – Wednesday performances at 7.30pm from Tuesday 21st April to Monday 4th May only.

All elements of the prize are strictly subject to availability and are non-transferable. All prize elements must be redeemed on the same date. Any additional expenses incurred over and above the prize element must be covered by the winner. The cost of travel is not included in the prize.

Winners will be contacted and informed via email on Monday, April 13 and all tickets will be held at the theatre box office under the winner's name for collection on the day of the performance. Please collect tickets within one hour of the performance starting.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Welcome to The Lamb Inn

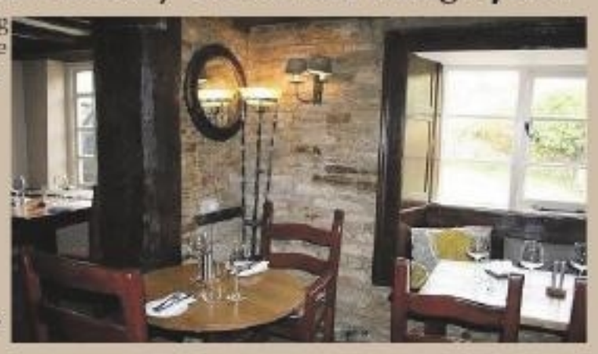
A traditional and beautiful 18th Century Cotswold village pub.

We have settled here after a number of years working in some of the finest hotels and restaurants across the UK. Our aim is to offer a relaxed, welcoming village pub with great service, ambience and creatively home cooked food, produced in our kitchen.



Enjoy the atmosphere of a classic old English inn with beams and a real log fire crackling away on a cold winters night. Settle down with a pint of your favourite Brakspears ale or whatever your favourite tipple is.

Dogs are allowed in the bar area making us perfect for all those enjoying a good country walk or ramble with well behaved four legged friends.

We support Cotswold businesses and use suppliers such as Castles Butchers in Burford, Butt's Farm near South Cerney and Cacklebean Farm Eggs near Stow on the Wold.

Whether it's a coffee, a quick pint, a light lunch following a long walk, something in your lunch hour from work or a candlelit dinner, The Lamb Inn has something for everyone. We look forward to welcoming you.

Advertorial

‘Taking care in later life’ seminars announced

Wednesday 4th March
2.30pm - 4.00pm &
7.00pm - 8.30pm
Witney Lakes Resort,
Witney, Oxfordshire

FOR those looking for help and advice regarding elderly care, whether for yourself, a friend, a neighbour or a loved one, an event taking place on Wednesday 4th March in Witney might be just the answer.

Age UK Oxfordshire, Carers Oxfordshire and Richmond Villages have teamed-up to create a seminar called ‘Taking care in later life’, offering expert advice on a range of topics including entitlements and grants, the help and advice generally available for older people in Oxfordshire, care options, and how Retirement Villages can help people retain their independence.

The seminars will be held twice during the day, with the afternoon presentations starting at 2.30pm until 4.00pm, and again in the evening from 7.00pm to 8.30pm.

Ruth Swift (Age UK Oxfordshire) commented : “Age can suddenly creep up on us, and you can often suddenly find yourself, or someone that you love, needing assistance in some shape or form, but not always knowing where to go to get help or indeed what help is actually available. These free seminars are designed to help anyone wrestling with an age-related issue to find out more about the support and services that are available and to help make life easier by signposting them in the right direction.”

Catherine Blaxhall of Oxfordshire Carers added “With a number of different organisations across the county offering support and assistance to all those aged 50+, this is a great opportunity for three such organisations to come together and pool resources.”

Presentations include:

Catherine Blaxhall, head of carers support at Carers Oxfordshire

Catherine will talk about their work and how they support families or informal carers. Her presentation will include information about services, grants and breaks, the Emergency Carers Support Service, plus training and development that is available for carers, such as First Aid training.

Ruth Swift, area head, Age UK Oxfordshire

Ruth will talk about the services that Age UK Oxfordshire offers, and in particular how the Community Information Network can provide support, information, help and advice to older people in the area.

Paul Jackson, director of sales, marketing and development, Richmond Villages

Paul will discuss the benefits of Assisted Living at a retirement village, and how it can help people to retain their independence, while also providing the reassurance of having carers available 24 hours a day.

The seminars are free to attend but booking is essential.

HALF TERM FUN!

February and Easter School Holiday Activities at Winchester Science Centre

WINCHESTER Science Centre & Planetarium is an under-cover, all-weather visitor attraction, great for days out for the family or for an evening event as an adult. There are over 100 hands-on exhibits each one on a different aspect of science and technology. So you can operate cranes, compose electronic music, build electrical circuits and see your body's hot spots with a thermo-imaging camera. The list goes on and on. The sport activity zone is full of unusual interactive exhibits, like moving a ball with just your brain waves, wheelchair basketball and a short race track with a photo of your start.

The Science Centre also has the UK's largest capacity Planetarium. This is a cinema with a vast dome screen. The image is all around you so that the effect can be like floating in space. The planetarium uses state of the art digital images and a cinema standard sound system. It is a unique experience. Planetarium shows run 7 days a week.

There are two new fulldome films recently added to the planetarium schedule: Back to the Moon: For Good is about the private teams around the world competing for the $40 million prize from Google to land a robot on the moon. Also covers the history of moon landings. In The Life of Trees follow Dolores the ladybird and Mike the glow-worm as they explore how trees live and their importance to our environment. Perfect for children up to 11yr. This show has won many awards for its beautiful imagery.

During February and Easter school holidays there are additional activities running including live science shows daily and extra planetarium shows also. Extended opening hours operate in school holidays as does a free shuttle bus. See website for more details.

There is also a full event schedule for adults only. Look out for Saturday Night Live at the Planetarium and After Dark and Singles Nights.

The Centre is situated near to Winchester and the M3 (junctions 9 or 10) www.winchestersciencecentre.org

HALF TERM FUN!

DUE TO popular demand, Theatrix Arts are returning to Millets Farm Centre on Monday and Friday next week with a theatrical puppet show to complete the half term line-up alongside Nick Cope's sold-out event on Wednesday.

The shows will be held in the Lakeview Restaurant at 11am-12:30pm and 2pm-3:30pm on both Monday 16th and Friday 20th of February. Each show will be followed by a workshop where children will have the chance to create and keep their very own puppet!

With a price of £5.50 per child and a maximum of 30 children per show, tickets for the event are selling quickly. Monday morning's session is currently sold-out but tickets are still available for the Monday afternoon and both Friday sessions. Mums and Dads attend for free and have a reserved seating area at the back with refreshments so that the children can get up close and enjoy the own show.

The show is recommended for children aged four and above.

Visit milletsfarmcentre.com for tickets and call 01865 391311 for any enquiries.

Night to Remember

FOLLOWING on from his successful 'Licence to Thrill' tour last year, 'Strictly Come Dancing' star Brendan Cole is back with another sexy and energetic show.

'A Night to Remember' is making its way to Oxford's New Theatre on February 18.

With his trusty cast of eight dancers and 14-piece band, prepare for the unexpected when Brendan visits the theatre.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The enthusiastic performer, along with his crew, will cover dance moves from the Contemporary Waltz to the Cha-Cha.

"We have all of the dances you'd expect such as Argentine Tango, Salsa, some beautiful Waltzes, Charleston, Quicksteps, we'll have them all," Brendan told the Guardian.

"On the night, I host the show whilst performing, and I love the fact that the show is very intimate between my cast, the audience and myself.

"It's a real variety type show with all you'd expect to see on Strictly, but it's more atmospheric and geared up for a live audience."

Brendan moved to the UK from New Zealand aged 18 to pursue a career in ballroom dancing.

His breakthrough arrived in 1996 when he and fellow ballroom dancer Camilla Dallerup were contestants on the BBC show 'Come Dancing' as amateurs, before eventually becoming professionals on the programme.

The show was later changed to 'Strictly Come Dancing' in 2004, where the Kiwi has appeared in every series of the hit show as a professional dancer.

Prior to his dancing ventures, Brendan worked as a builder and roof layer.

"It hasn't always been my goal to become a dancer growing up but as you get older, opportunities present themselves and you make decisions that are best for you at the time," the 38-year-old said.

"I could have very easily stayed in New Zealand and created my life there, but my dreams were bigger than that.

"I didn't know that it would necessarily be dance but I just knew I wanted more."

He added: "I left school and went into building because I wanted to work.

"I loved doing it and it was during this time, I made the decision that I would move to the UK to follow my dream of being one of the world's best dancers."

Tickets cost from £28.90 to £40.90.

The show, at the Geroge Street theatre, starts at 7.30pm.

• Brendan Cole will be at The New Theatre Oxford on February 18

Jazz Sunday

THE Ewen Baird Quartet will be at the Oxford Wine Café on Sunday, February 15.

Originally from Malawi, Ewen was brought up in Edinburgh before moving to England 15 years ago.

He is also a multi-instrumentalist who can play the saxophone, flute and bass clarinet.

The free event in South Parade, Oxford starts at 6.30pm until 9pm.

O2 rock night

AMERICAN rock band The Used will be at city's O2 Academy as part of their UK tour next Tuesday, February 17.

The group formed in 2001 and will be performing tunes off their album 'Imaginary Enemy', released last year.

Tickets cost £19.68.

The gig at the Cowley Road venue starts at 7pm.

Film screening

THE Mills Art Centre in Banbury is showing one of 2014s most popular films 'The Lego Movie' on February 17 from 10.45am.

Tickets cost £4 to £6 for the screening at the Spiceball Park venue.

Irish folk at its best

NORTHERN Irish folk musician Cara Dillon will bring soft and blissful tones to the Nettlebed Folk Club near Wallingford on Monday, February 16.

The 39-year-old and her band is stopping off at the club in High Street as part of a 2015 tour which will take them from Oxfordshire to the Far East.

Cara will be supported by husband Sam Lakeman, all-Ireland fiddle champion Niall Murphy, button accordion virtuoso Luke Daniels and Ed Boyd on guitar.

"We always hope to take the audience on a bit of a journey through highs and lows including very emotional traditional folk ballads to foot stomping tune sets," Cara told the Guardian.

Since releasing her debut self-titled album back in 2001, the musician has gone from success to success.

Her first album was nominated for four awards at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2002, and in 2010 she sang the title title track for Disney film "Tinkerbell and the Great Fairy Rescue".

Cara added: "I'm not entirely sure if there was a single moment that was a springboard for my success, as it seems to have been a constant stream of little things that have led me here.

"I suppose there have been the awards I've won along the way.

"The first two BBC Folk Awards I won back in 2002 definitely seemed to announce my arrival on the folk scene here in the UK.

"However, I suppose when I sang the Disney movie title track I managed to reach a far wider audience throughout the world and that is something I'm very grateful for."

Tickets cost £17.50 for the show, which starts at 8pm.

Call 01628 636620 for details.

Hosted by Lee Davies, the free event starts at 8.30pm.

Musical jokes

COMEDIC musician David O'Doherty will be at The Glee Club this Sunday, February 15.

The 39-year-old is bringing 'David O'Doherty Has Checked Everything' to the comedy venue in Hythe Bridge Street from 8pm.

Tickets cost £13 to £15 and the gig is suitable for over 18s.

Hawking film

CRITICALLY acclaimed film 'The Theory of Everything' will be shown at The Chipping Norton Theatre this Saturday, February 14, and next Tuesday, February 17.

Based on the love life of Stephen Hawking, it tells the story of the famous physicist and his first wife Jane Wilde who fall in love as students at Oxford University.

Both screenings start at 7.30pm at the Spring Street venue and tickets cost £6 to £8.

Rabbiting their way to Oxford

COCKNEY duo Chas & Dave have extended their run of shows to include a gig at the New Theatre Oxford on Monday, February 16.

The two musicians come to the George Street venue off the back of a very triumphant 'On The Road' UK tour.

"The show is 'The Chas & Dave' story", Chas told the Guardian.

"The first half of the show is Chas & Dave in the '70s, and the second half of the show is the '80s and onward and will we also sing songs from our latest album 'That's What Happens' in the show."

The duo, who have been together since 1975, achieved monumental success all over the UK with musical hits such as 'Rabbit', and 'Ain't No Pleasing You'.

And 'Margate' was used in the Only Fools and Horses' episode 'The Jolly Boys Outing', aired on Christmas Day 1989.

However, despite their chart success, Chas said that the proudest moment of his career was working with some of music's finest acts.

The pair opened for Led Zeppelin at the 1979 Knebworth Festival, but Chas revealed that was far from highlight number one.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"The old Led Zeps were quite down the list compared with me working with the Beatles, Jerry Lee Lewis and Gene Vincent," he said.

"Dave and I sold out at the Royal Albert Hall and closed the Royal Variety performance and Glastonbury Festival."

Their current tour started on September 19 last year in Wolverhampton, and was meant to finish on December 27 in Brighton.

However with the extra dates, the tour will now finish on May 25 at Liverpool's O2 Academy.

And to help the duo through the next few months will be 'plenty of jellied eels', Chas said.

The gig will start at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost between £28.40 and £31.40.

For more information about the show, visit atgtickets.com/oxford or call 0844 871 3020.

PADDINGTON
Perennial children's favourite Paddington Bear finally makes his big screen debut in this delightful blend of live action and CGI. When polite Paddington Bear arrives in London from the Peruvian jungle, he's adopted by Mr and Mrs Brown, but it isn't long before he attracts the attentions of a sinister taxidermist! A top notch Brit cast of Jim Broadbent, Julie Walters and Hugh Bonneville.

SAM BAILEY
Sam Bailey stole the hearts of a nation on X Factor and since winning her feet have barely touched the ground. Having wowed fans up and down the country headlining the X Factor Tour earlier this year Sam is set to embark on her very own tour throughout January and February 2015.
The former prison officer has experienced dreams becoming reality; including an incredible No. 1 with her single Skyscraper, supporting Beyonce on tour, performing with her idol Michael Bolton at the National Television Awards and now her own headline tour.
'I've been performing since I was 15 but I never got to where I wanted to be. Then real life, needing to pay bills, marriage and children happened and you just put everything on hold. X Factor gave a woman like me a chance. It gave me my confidence back, it gave me music back, and this is for all those people out there who believed in me!'
Sam Bailey has recently reissued her number one debut album The Power Of Love 2014. The Power of Love features a stunning collection of covers and brand new tracks, all performed with those self assured, spine-tingling vocals that set the country on fire. Her massive hit single Skyscraper, appears alongside her triumphant duet, And I Am Telling You, with Nicole Scherzinger. The album also features five brand new songs – three Christmas themed tracks: Silent Night, O Holy Night and Please Come Home for Christmas along with an alternative version of original track Treasure and an electrifying version of With You, taken from Ghost - The Musical."

"Described as one of the funniest comedies ever written, University of Oxford students perform Michael Frayn's award-winning play within a play, Noises Off.
A mediocre cast and overworked stage crew can't stop director Lloyd's production of "Nothing On" going ahead, despite forgotten lines, missed entrances, a whisky-loving actor and disruptive love triangle.
Revealing backstage turmoil and onstage bedlam, Noises Off cleverly follows the play's shambolic blunderings from both the audience's perspective and behind the scenes in this superbly-written farce."

TRY ORIENTEERING AT SHOTOVER COUNTRY PARK
"If you fancy a new outdoor activity for all the family, why not give orienteering a go. This event is organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and it's ideal for families and children. There will be several courses and plenty of help on hand for newcomers. There will be six courses to choose from, from 1km up to 5km, taking around 30-75 mins to complete, plus a special string course for very young children, where they follow a line of string to find fun characters. If you've never tried orienteering before, it's a bit like a treasure hunt to find a series of checkpoints around your chosen course. They're marked by flags on the ground and you register each one with an electronic timing chip to record your progress, and prove you've been to them! The challenge arises by there being no set route between the checkpoints and you have to choose your own way, using a detailed orienteering map of the park. This is part of a series of four events around Oxford:
Saturday 14 February - Hill End
Saturday 14 March - Cutteslowe Park
Saturday 11 April - Shotover Country Park
Saturday 16 May - University Parks
It's great fun and the events are supported by Oxford City Council and Up and Running in Oxford, who have supplied some great prizes. Come along any time between 10.00am to 11.30am and don't forget your sense of adventure! The cost is £6 per family group, or £2 for solo juniors.

Citroën Grand C4 Picasso

REVIEW: Citroën Grand C4 Picasso

By James Richings

JUST 12 months on from its UK launch, the Citroën Grand C4 Picasso has been crowned 'MPV of the Year' for the second year in a row at the prestigious 2015 What Car? Car of the Year awards.

The awards were held at Grosvenor House Hotel in London last month.

Judges praised the Grand C4 Picasso 1.6 e-HDi 115 Exclusive for offering 'one of the most efficient ways of transporting seven'.

What Car? reviewers gave the French manufacturers four stars for their efforts, citing its pros as a spacious and practical cabin with good visability and lots of equipment.

But cons included a 'notchy' manual gearbox, 'unsettled ride' and 'fiddly touch control screen system'.

"The Grand C4 Picasso does a rare thing, which is offer sixth and seventh seats that can accommodate two adults, and that's before you consider the five in front," What Car? editor Jim Holder said.

"Everyone on board is sure to benefit from an impressive amount of space. The Grand C4 Picasso isn't just big, though, it's clever.

"Families will also love the way the Citroën costs them less than rivals."

He continued: "This 1.6-litre diesel performed strongly in our True MPG tests, despite being powerful enough to haul around a full load of people and luggage.

"It's one of the most efficient ways of transporting seven, as well as being practical enough to meet a huge range of needs."

UK brand and sales director for Citroën, Bekir Hassan, said: "The Grand C4 Picasso continues to lead the way in terms of class-beating interior space, comfort and record levels of efficiency in the MPV segment.

"We're brimming with pride at the news that the Grand C4 Picasso has once again been named best MPV in the What Car? Car of the Year awards."

While the Citroën Grand C4 Picasso was the overall winner for the £16,000-£22,000 category, the Seat Alhambra 2.0 TDI 140 Ecomotive S won the over £22,000 category, while the Citroen C3 Picasso 1.4 VTi 95 VTR+ won the less than £16,000 category at the awards.

Lewis in contention for 100th league bout

SCRUM-HALF Rob Lewis says London Welsh are finally getting to grips with life in the Aviva Premiership as he prepares to make his 100th league appearance for the club this weekend.

The Exiles welcome Sale Sharks to the Kassam Stadium on Sunday and are still in search of their first win of the season.

Welsh have been in European Challenge Cup and LV=Cup action over the last month and head into Sunday's match off the back of 23 consecutive defeats.

However, morale-boosting wins have slipped through their fingertips in recent weeks with Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons coming from behind to claim victories.

Lewis, who is in his second spell at the club, is looking forward to the prospect of reaching a century of appearances for the Exiles.

The 27-year-old said: "It is an honour to be here that long and to get to that milestone.

"I am just grateful and privileged to do it."

The Exiles have made vast improvements in recent weeks

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

and Lewis believes a win is not far away.

He continued: "We have been building well.

"Hopefully we can push on and get that win we are all craving for.

"It will be a good reward for all the hard work we have done because it is a tough league to be in.

"There have been a few eye openers and we're finally getting to terms with it.

"The comparative with where we are now and the beginning of the season is a big improvement."

Welsh have conceded on average 44 points a match in the Aviva Premiership this season and are 20 points adrift at the bottom of the table.

Rowland Phillips was employed as the club's defensive coach in November and says he has seen improvements.

He added: "The players are working with each other better and better.

• London Welsh scrum-half Rob Lewis (picture by Martin John)

"There has been an emphasis on our tackling and that seems to have improved."

Phillips continued: "The training goes pretty well and we're all confident going into matches but under pressure people sometimes forget their roles or get exposed.

"We're focusing on getting close to matchday intensity in training so we can get used to that pressure."

Kick-off on Sunday has been moved forward to 1pm.

Ferguson is upbeat ahead of Sale test

ASSISTANT coach Matt Ferguson is in an upbeat mood as London Welsh prepare for the visit of Sale Sharks in the Aviva Premiership this Sunday.

The Exiles return to league action after Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons snatched victories from their grasp in the LV=Cup over consecutive weekends.

Although Ferguson admits frustration at letting slip leads in recent weeks, he is buoyed by the fact that Welsh are now having a greater say in matches.

He said: "They are not games we have been hanging on in, we have been the dominant force and not been able to nail it down.

"We're to blame for that and depending on which way you look at it, it is definitely a positive compared to the start of the season."

The Exiles return to league action after a four-week cup schedule and Ferguson is under no illusions about what will be in store on Sunday.

He added: "To win we have to be 100 per cent accurate for 100 per cent of the game.

"We have not done that yet so let's do it for the whole game and see where that takes the scoreboard."

Big win followed by cup defeat

OXFORD City were knocked out of the Oxfordshire Senior Cup on Tuesday evening, just three days after thrashing Brackley Town 5-0 in the Vanarama Conference North.

City were dumped out of the county cup at the quarter final stage after losing 2-1 away to Banbury United.

Paulo Mendes scored City's only goal just three minutes into the match, but Banbury fought back to ensure they went through to the semi-finals.

It was a different story on Saturday when City made the trip to Northamptonshire.

Adi Yussuf gave City the lead early on, but they had to wait until the 66th minute before Darren Pond added the second.

The floodgates then opened as Tom Winters came off the bench to get the third, with Yussuf contributing two more to complete his hat-trick and seal a 5-0 win.

Saturday's win leaves City ninth in the standings with 43 points, four points off fifth-placed Chorley in the final play-off spot.

Boss backs Hoban to break his duck soon

HEAD coach Michael Appleton is backing striker Patrick Hoban to end his barren run in front of goal when Oxford United travel to promotion chasing Burton Albion on Saturday.

The 23-year-old has yet to open his account since signing from Dundalk and started for the fourth game running in United's 1-0 defeat to struggling Accrington Stanley on Tuesday.

Hoban caught Appleton's eye after scoring 20 goals in the League of Ireland Premier Division last season.

But the Irishman's start to life at Oxford has been a frustrating one in front of goal.

On Saturday, an offside flag denied him his first goal in a yellow shirt in the 1-1 draw against Luton Town.

And on Tuesday, he was unable to find the net as United fell to a 91st minute defeat at Accrington.

Appleton said: "He will be frustrated but I think that is a good thing.

"Someone will get it soon, they will feel the full force of the beast, and I hope it's sooner rather than later.

"Come the end of the season I am sure he will have a smile on his face."

Terry Gornell hooked home from close range to end Accrington's five-game losing streak on Tuesday but United were left incensed, arguing goalkeeper Ryan Clarke had been fouled.

Appleton added: "It was difficult to take because it looked like a clear foul on the goalkeeper.

"We had our fair share of chances and obviously the frontmen need to do better.

"It's been the story of the season. We take a step forward and two steps back and we somehow have to grasp the responsibility as a group."

On Monday, United signed French midfielder Jeremy Balmy until the end of the season and the 20-year-old was due to make his debut in a development game for the club as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print yesterday.

Appleton also revealed on Tuesday that United are close to snapping up another free agent, thought to be an attacking midfielder.

United head into Saturday's match 17th in Sky Bet League Two and five points above the relegation zone.

ForwardAlex MacDonald is ineligible to play against his old club due to the terms of his contract.

Smith pleased with his first MotoGP pre-season test

OXFORD'S MotoGP ace Bradley Smith finished the first three-day pre-season test in Malaysia ninth last Friday, setting a best lap almost a second quicker than his qualifying time from last year.

His personal best lap of 2:00.384 was a second and a half shy of the fastest time from testing, set by Honda racer and reigning world champion Marc Marquez.

Smith completed 153 laps during the three day test at the Sepang track, all despite limping due to an injured ankle.

"It was a really productive and positive three days in Sepang and a great way to open the 2015 season," said Smith.

He added: "I improved my time by around seven tenths of a second every day, which shows we are definitely heading in the right direction.

"My physical condition didn't get any worse, so I remain optimistic that when we return here my ankle will be completely healed and I can really go for it. It's been a great three days and I'm happy to be back on my bike."

The second pre-season test sees the riders head back to Sepang from February 23 to 26, ahead of the first race of the 2015 season in Qatar on March 29.

Pep pulls out in Malaysia

GOLF: Abingdon golfer Eddie Pepperell was forced to pull out of the Malaysian Open last Thursday because of ill health.

The 24-year-old had shot a seven over par 79 in the first round before pulling out of the tournament ahead of Friday's play.

It comes after he missed the cut at the Dubai Desert Classic the previous week.

Hawks draw but Uni loses

HOCKEY: Oxford Hawks could only manage a 1-1 draw in their game away to Spencer on Saturday.

Ben Wilson scored for the visitors, but Ed Miller's goal for Spencer ensured a share of the spoils.

It was a more disappointing day for Oxford University, as they lost 1-0 away to Havant following James Speke's strike.

Hawks sit sixth in the South League Premier Division with 20 points, while University are ninth with 14 points.

Both play again this Saturday, as Hawks host Staines while University are at home to Milton Keynes.

Marussia get the no vote

FORMULA ONE: Marussia were dealt a blow in their attempts to take part in this year's F1 championship after a rival team blocked their bid last week.

Force India vetoed the formerly Banbury-based team's application to use a modified 2014 car this season at a meeting between the teams last Thursday.

The team is planning to come out of administration on February 19.

They are set to continue discussions to try and take part in the F1 season.

Ardley make return to winning ways

ARDLEY United enjoyed a dominant win in the Hellenic Premier Division on Saturday as they thrashed Shrivenham 6-0 at home.

It was their first win of 2015, following on from four successive defeats in the league.

Milton United also picked up a victory at home to Bracknell Town, while Oxford City Nomads beat Holyport 2-0.

And Kidlington were also victorious as they defeated Thatcham Town 2-1.

The results mean that Kidlington are second in the table with 66 points, while Ardley are seventh on 47 points.

Oxford City Nomads sit 12th with 36 points, Milton two further back on 34, while Shrivenham are second bottom with just 13.

On Tuesday night, Nomads were knocked out in the third round of the Bluefin Sport Challenge Cup after suffering a 5-3 loss away to Flackwell Heath.

This Saturday's fixtures sees Kidlington travel to Ascot United, Milton visit Highworth Town, Ardley make the trip to Newbury, while Shrivenham host Nomads.

Stars fail to shine against Thunder

OXFORD City Stars succumbed to their first defeat in three matches on Sunday as they lost 8-5 away to Milton Keynes Thunder.

Stars fell behind right at the start as Jamie Line put one past netminder James Skaife on the near side.

The visitors were able to equalise 40 seconds later through Evan Mackintosh.

Despite that, the hosts would lead 3-1 at the end of the first period after goals from Piotr Poziomkowski and Ryan Coffey.

Martyn Snape made it 4-1 before Josh Florey was able to claw one back for Stars as he got on the end of a Mackintosh pass.

Snape added another soon afterwards, but Dan Hedges and Mackintosh closed the gap to just one at the second break to make for a tense end to the match.

But Thunder were able to pull away as Line got his second of the match before Snape completed his hat-trick to re-establish the host's three goal advantage.

Jamie Randall added one more for Thunder in the closing stages, and the match finished 8-5.

Despite the loss, Stars stay ninth in the National Ice Hockey League South 1 standings with 12 points, one above relegation rivals Cardiff Devils.

Their next match is on Saturday when they take on Invicta Dynamos at home.

Heavy defeat for 'Quins at weekend

OXFORD Harlequins were whitewashed 23-0 in their match with Old Centralians on Saturday.

'Quins had found themselves 15-0 behind at the interval, and could do nothing to get off the mark in the second half as they were outplayed by the Gloucestershire side.

The result keeps 'Quins third from bottom in the National League 3 South West standings with 31 points from 18 games, one behind next-placed Old Redcliffians.

They take a break from the league this weekend as they host Henley in a cup game on Saturday, before resuming normal action against Old Patesians on February 21.

Elsewhere, Grove picked up another victory as they beat South West 1 East league leaders Chippenham 24-7 at home.

Chippenham had only been beaten once before this season, but a strong performance from Grove meant they earned their win.

Grove sit ninth in the table with 42 points after 19 games, level with 10th-placed Reading and six behind Trowbridge in eighth.

They have their own cup game with Chinnor this Saturday, before returning to league action on February 21 against Devizes.

ACKLING: IT'S NOW OR NEVER

Boss desperately seeking points from remaining fixtures

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

MANAGER Gary Ackling says it is "now or never" for Abingdon United to turn their season around.

United sit third from bottom in the Hellenic Premier Division with 11 games remaining, two points away from guaranteed safety.

Last Saturday, Abingdon were beaten 3-2 by league leaders Highmoor Ibis at The Northcourt and Ackling is targeting a change of fortunes when his side visit mid-table Bracknell Town on Saturday.

He said: "It's now or never.

"We have just got to give our all in every game and hopefully we will get a little bit of a run of the mill along the way."

United also face Oxford City Nomads and Holyport over the next few weeks, and Ackling is targeting at least six points from the next three games.

He continued: "All of these sides are mid-table and not playing for anything.

"They are the sort of sides we have got to be picking up points against and we're running out of games.

"You can keep saying next week and sooner rather than later but we are down to the last games."

United received a bit of good news on the transfer front in midweek with striker Ritchie Guy signing from Newbury.

Ackling also revealed he was closing in on bringing Sam Collier to the club after the 27-year-old stood down as Shrivenham boss on Tuesday.

The United boss previously worked with Guy at Wantage Town and is delighted to bring him to Abingdon after losing frontman Jimmy Deabill to Didcot last month.

He added: "Ritchie is a Johnny at the spot and it seems to fall for him.

"He seems to take up good positions and he did very well at Wantage to score more than 20 goals and not play all the time either.

"Whether he can do it in a side that is struggling we will have to wait and see but it is a gamble worth taking."

Johnny Berwick

Studied: BA (Hons) Sports Management & Rugby Studies

Role: Community Coach, London Irish

Once you leave university and start looking for work, naturally employers will be interested in your academic qualifications. But they'll be just as interested in what else you did as a student, and what kind of work experience you might have that will help you hit the ground running.

Once again, choosing the right university can make all the difference. Johnny Berwick is Community Rugby Coach at London Irish, and says his time studying for a BA (Hons) in Sports Management & Rugby Studies at Bucks wasn't just about the course, it was about the connections. "By helping me to connect with the community and network with the right people, Bucks helped me gain valuable experience and a foot into the industry."

Louis Brown

Studied: BA (Hons) Music Management and Artist Development

Role: Digital Consultant and Project Manager at Island Records/Universal Music Group

Louis Brown works for Island Records, and knows that his BA (Hons) in Music Management and Artist Development from Bucks played a big part in getting him the role there. "My degree has helped me enormously," he says. "A lot of industry experts recognise Bucks as being great for producing talent within music."

The real deal

Don't forget to check out other ways that a prospective university can help you. We have an additional support package called 'The Big Deal' which means that many Students' Union social activities are free, as well as free sports clubs, free societies, free skills workshop – it's the only arrangement like it in the UK. And the Big Deal has got even better, because for 2015 it can help you with essential course materials and text books, support for trips and visits as well as ensuring the Library can stay open 24/7 during term time.

No university can hand everything to you on a plate, of course. You need to bring your own drive and ambition with you. But find somewhere that can put you in touch with the right people, offers the right facilities and has graduates employed in the kinds of places you'd like to end up working in, and you'll be off to a good start.

Come to our open day on Saturday 21 February and start to realise your ambitions.

The Undergraduate Open Days at Bucks are among the most well liked features of the application process. We do our best to make them fun and enjoyable with lots of helpers to explain everything and answer your questions. If you are coming a long way by car or train then we do our best to make sure you get to see everything and speak to all the right people on your visit.

The day is split up onto the morning registration and welcome to the campus, then you can use your personal planner to visit the different course areas in the academic fair. You will have lots of time to book on to an accommodation tour for two of our nearby Student Halls (comprising a short coach trip or walk through the town centre to the venue). Or you can take a guided tour around our campus at High Wycombe.

This February open day we will be located in our Library because the afternoon session will be dedicated to special subject presentations around the campus. These are designed for students who have already applied to Bucks, but if you are not sure what you want to do yet you can still attend and take part.

After a buffet lunch the presentation will continue throughout the afternoon, but if you want to get the facts about fees, or learning support or the Students' Union you can visit the information zones to speak to staff and students who are responsible for these facilities. There is nothing like experiencing the campus and seeing the accommodation and lecture rooms where you could be studying in a few months' time.

Choosing a university is a big decision, but we at Bucks New University are here to help you make that choice, and we hope we have the course that you would like to take and a friendly and supportive atmosphere for you to study in.

We look forward to meeting you.
